DESCRIPTION

The Clarendon distillery lies in the south of the island Jamaica at St. Catherine's Town. The rum has been made from local molasses since the 18th century.

TASTING NOTES

Nose: A clear cut Jamaican tracer comes out with its very fruity side, expressed in this bottling by lychee, passion fruit and a strong camphorated and minty side.

Mouth: Mirabelle plum mixed with cedar are the first markers. We find delicious aromas of "Lady Grey" style black tea, vanilla, and quince.

Finish: The finish of a truly through and through Jamaican rum, with barley sugar, white chocolate and, more atypically, flax oil.
